BORDER COUNTY NOTES.

CARROLL.

A brakeman on a special train on the Santa Fe railway was struck by a passenger train while standing at the switch, in Norborne, one day last week and was seriously injured.

Carroll county has 8,304 school children between the ages of six and 20 years. Her portion of the state school fund for this year is $8,134.46. This is not quite one dollar to the child.

Henry Heremanna, a blacksmith at Bosworth, was knocked down by a thunder bolt Wednesday of last week while working in his shop. The same bolt killed a cow that was tied near by.

The tobacco crop in Carroll county this year is said to be the lightest ever put out in that county. The entire crop will not exceed fifty hogsheads this year. The crop is looking well at present.

Dr. J. W. McGuire, of De Witt, was arrested again Friday of last week on a charge of common assault, and taken before a justice of the peace, and sentenced for three months to the county jail.

William Stanley, living a few miles west of Carrollton, is a practical deer raiser, and has a herd of eight head in his park. Not long since the herd numbered 27 head, but he has since killed and sold a number of them.

The citizens of Carrollton, have organized and put in operation a Flouring Mill company with a paid up capital of $10,000. The plant is to take the place of the Davis Manufacturing Co. that went to Brookfield recently.

Dr. A. G. Rogers, a druggist of Carrollton, made an assignment Friday of last week of all his stock of drugs and fixtures for the benefit of his creditors. Charles E. Rogers, of Wakenda, was named as assignee. The liabilities are placed at $1,400, with assets amounting to near by $3,000.

HOWARD.

The Armstrong fair will be held this year on the 20th, 21st and 22nd days of October. There will be a large list of premiums offered this year.

One night last week the store-room of Henry Martin, at Armstrong, was burglarized and several dollars' worth of watermelons, candy and bananas were taken.

James Harris, the son of Pressley Harris, a farmer in the vicinity of Fayette, had his foot caught under a stacker one day last week and the bones were terribly crushed.

Quite a number of negroes from Fayette went to Boonville Thursday of last week, to attend the anniversary of the emancipation of the negroes in British India.

Edward Long and Seaton Vivion, the two negro roustabouts who escaped from jail at Fayette some time last winter, were recaptured one day last week in Cooper county.

E. C. Denny, of the vicinity of Armstrong, raised 5,000 bushels of wheat this season. This is supposed to be the largest crop raised in Howard county this year. The yield was 25 bushels per acre.

A party of roughs, going home from Glasgow, Thursday night of last week overtook a negro boy, when they began firing their pistols, which frightened his horse and in trying to get away it fell into a ditch and broke its neck.

Thursday of last week Mrs. Pickard, living in the vicinity of Jackman's mill, was found lying on the floor of her husband's residence, in an unconscious condition. She died a few minutes afterward. It is supposed that she either died of apoplexy or heart failure.

LINN.

Bernard Tillman, a farmer in the vicinity of Brookfield, was fatally injured one day last week by a runaway team hitched to a mowing machine. He died from the effects of the injuries the next day.

Ezra O. Williams, a former Chariton county boy, is seeking the nomination for sheriff at the hands of the Republicans of Linn county. Ezra would make a good sheriff, but Linn county is now reliably Democratic.

A little girl died on one of the fast passenger trains, just as the train pulled into Marcelline one night last week. The little one was accompanying her parents to their home in the West when the sad event occurred.

Judge William M. Maxwell, one of the early pioneers of Linn county, died at the residence of his son, in Brookfield, Thursday morning of last week in the 80th year of his age. He had been a useful citizen for many years.

Leonard West, the 12-year-old son of Marion E. West, an industrious farmer living in the vicinity of Linneus, had his right arm mangled in the machinery of a saw-mill one day last week. The arm had to be amputated above the elbow.

S. L. Wilson, an enterprising farmer and stock raiser, of the vicinity of Shelby, was attacked by a vicious bull one day last week while assorting a bunch of cattle on his premises. Mr. Wilson was tossed over a fence and escaped without serious injury.

An unknown negro was arrested at Marcelline on Wednesday of last week on a charge of making a felonious assault on a white man the evening before. He was tried and held for the grand jury, and in default of bail was sent to the county jail.

MACON.

M. M. Self, a farmer living in the vicinity of La Cross, was thrown from a loaded wagon one day last week and was seriously injured.

Samuel Standfield, an enterprising farmer living in the vicinity of New Cambria, had a valuable mare and colt stolen from his pasture one night last week.

A disease has broken out among the cows in the vicinity of Macon City. Quite a number have fallen victims to the malady. The trouble seems to be located in the spinal column.

A negro boy made his appearance at New Cambria one day last week, and broke all the other boys in town shooting craps. Before leaving he stole a hat and was arrested and sent to jail at Macon City.

Some cruel wretch went to the barn of George Fields, near Sue City, one night last week and knocked both eyes out of a valuable horse. The act was atrocious and the scoundrel ought to be sent to the penitentiary.

Joseph Scott, an industrious and highly esteemed farmer living in the eastern part of Macon county, was found dead in his bed Friday morning of last week. He was apparently in good health the evening before.

The citizens of Macon county are making arrangements to have the old block house, near the Chariton river, sent to Chicago and placed on exhibition at the world's fair as a relic of war times in Missouri. The block house was used as a military post during the civil war, whose duty it was to protect the Hannibal & St. Joe railroad bridge across the Chariton river.

SALINE.

The Saline county court at its last regular monthly meeting consolidated Cambridge and Jefferson townships. There was quite an opposition to the proposition.

The city council of Marshall entered into a contract last week with an eastern company to have an electric plant established in that city by the first day of January.

Walter Rilea, the 6-year-old son of Charles Rilea, of Slater, came near losing his life one day last week, while playing in a bin of wheat, which caved in on him. It took the combined efforts of several men to save his life.

The bank building formerly owned and occupied by the late Cordell Dunnica Banking company, at Marshall, was sold one day last week for $4,580. It was purchased by some Germans, who will soon open another bank.

The family of William Copeland, consisting of the mother, three daughters and one son were all seriously injured one day last week by being thrown from a wagon, drawn by a runaway team. The mother and daughters were badly hurt.

LIVINGSTON.

Hon. Leverett Leonard, the People's party candidate for governor of Missouri, spent several days at Chillicothe last week looking after his political fences.

Dr. James M. Mansfield, of Chillicothe, has sold his residence in that city with a view to locating at Quincy, Illinois. Chillicothe loses a good citizen and a useful man.

The tenth annual fair of Livingston county will begin at Avalon, August the 31st, and will continue in session four days. A large and liberal list of premiums has been offered.

Company H. of the Fourth regiment of the N. G. M., of Chillicothe, which was in camp at Brookfield last week, carried off the honors as being the best drilled company in the regiment.

Hugh Mansur, of Chillicothe, rode from Carrollton to his home in Chillicothe on a bicycle in four hours, the distance being 35 miles. He made good time, an average of 8 miles an hour.

The mineral springs, near Mooresville, which have been in operation for years, are having quite a run of business this season. These springs will be a popular resort for pleasure-seekers in the course of time.

The inquest over the remains of the D. A. Meadows, of St. Joseph, who was recently killed by the cars at Chillicothe, cost $65, which amount was promptly remitted to the coroner by the family of the dead man.

RANDOLPH.

The Moberly Brick and Tile company has enlarged its plant. The establishment now has a capacity of 125,000 brick a day.

C. R. Ridgeway, a carpenter of Moberly, was thrown from the top of a loaded wagon one day last week and was seriously injured.

The Moberly fair last week excelled anything of the kind ever held in that city before. It was conceded that it was the best display of fine stock that ever took place in Central Missouri.

The Moberly Browns and the Weir City, Kansas, base ball teams played a match game at Glen Eden park, near Glasgow, for $500 a side last Sunday. Weir City won the game by a score of 6 to 8.

C. F. Williams, superintendent of the Children's Home society of Missouri, was in Moberly several days last week looking after a couple of homeless waifs in that city.

W. P. Nichols, the champion turkey raiser of Randolph county, seems to be out of luck this year. The extreme wet weather in the early part of the season destroyed nearly all of his young turkeys.

A couple of negro boys discovered the dead body of a man, near Clark, while gathering blackberries one day last week. They went back to notify the authorities of what they had seen, but when they returned to the place the body had been moved and could not be found.

A Great Surprise.

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.

A judge in the supreme court of New York has decided that Queen Victoria must file a surety bond in the sum of $250 in a case brought in her name against an asphalt company for the value of asphalt stolen from the island of Trinidad.

Congressmen's Appetites

Congressmen have queer appetites and sometimes evince tastes not known to the epicure. At the old hotels in Washington a fourth meal known as supper is served from 9 o'clock until midnight, and this often becomes the jolliest feast of the day. Where a number of congressmen are housed at one hotel they form a large supper party, and from the hilarity that reigns a looker-on would imagine they were imbibing champagne or other exhilarating liquids without end.

Often, however, if you should look over their shoulders you would be astounded to see every one of those congressmen eating bowls of innocent mush and milk. Another congressional food is apples. It is a very familiar sight, according to Kate Field's Washington, to see a member of the house open his desk, extract a rasy apple, bring out a large jackknife from his pocket and then seek the seclusion of the cloak rooms to devour the feast. Mr. Bland has a habit of going out on the south balcony at such times. He was standing there the other day solemnly disposing of a couple of apples when a young woman came by. Her curiosity was too much for her and without further salutation she proceeded to ask why congressmen liked apples so well.

"Healthy, you know," Bland replied, and as she turned away dissatisfied with the reply he added: "It's all on account of that Adam. We inherit the tendency to repeat the garden of Eden episode."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was afflicted to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Specker, Catawba, O., had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by W. C. Gaston Drug store.

Hon. J. M. BATTLE, Charity Com. for St. Louis.

Miss Britt is a most desirable acquisition to any community. Refined, cultured, of superior attainments, she is equal to any position which she accepts.

Rev. T. W. BARRETT, M. A., Pres. Stephens College (Baptist).

Miss Britt was graduated who first rank. Any school securing her services is fortunate indeed.

EDWARD A. ALLEN, M. A., Prof. Mo. State University.

The Democratic state central committee has established head-quarters at the Laclede hotel, St. Louis, where it will keep open doors to all Democrats during the remainder of the present campaign. Indeed the committee is anxious to have an accurate knowledge of the condition of affairs in all parts of the state. Therefore Democrats visiting the city should make it a point to call on the committee and be interviewed on the political aspect of their section of the state.

A Sensible Man.

Would use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. It is curing more cases of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.
